

Will legacy car companies ever truly embrace EVs?

A conversation with electric vehicle expert Chelsea Sexton

By Jeremy Fischer

April 12, 2021

Will legacy car companies ever truly embrace EVs?

In our inaugural episode of E Source PowerTalking, host Bryan Jungers chats with E Source's chief instigation agent Bill LeBlanc and electric vehicle (EV) advocate Chelsea Sexton to answer some questions around EV trends. Humorous yet in-depth, this episode is a rich dialogue about the future of EVs, discussing everything from car battery size to EV market penetration.

Interested in learning more about our work with electric vehicles? Visit www.esource.com/electric-vehicles.

Future episodes will focus on:

- Demand response
- Using data science for grid optimization
- Dynamic pricing
- Electrification and decarbonization
- Electric vehicles, including consumer charging behavior, electric trucks, and growing consumer markets

Return to PowerTalking

© 2008 - 2026 E Source Companies LLC. All rights reserved.
Distribution outside subscribing organizations limited by license.